OAK THEATRE CHAIR

£1,980

Code:4344

RU Editions

Handmade from oak, this slim and refined chair is designed to complement the Draper's Table and the Oval Table by Rose Uniacke. The barrel-formed back is both comfortable to sit in, whilst giving an unexpected elegant shape when the chair is unused and drawn up to the table. The added 'flick' of the back legs provides a wonderful profile.

The chair was derived from an early 20th Century model designed for a theatre; the shape inspired by the 'spoonback' of the mid-nineteenth century, but with a more elegant line of the late 1920s
